System Setup

Once you have installed FastManager and you're connected to the Company Database, you will be presented with the Login Dialog:

FastManager ships with 2 default user accounts: House Account and Owner (no password)

- Neither of these has a password at first.
- Select either one from the drop-down selection and login to FastManager

FastManager Overview

At the top you will find the Menu Bar

On the left side you will find the Navigation Pane

At the bottom you will see the Database location (on the left) and your Serial Number as well as the Program Version Number on the right
